Debs Carling Announces Business Name Change to Debs Carling Animal Connections

Debs Carling is excited to announce a significant rebranding of her business, now known as Debs Carling Animal Connections (formerly Debs Carling Trust Technique Practitioner). This name change reflects the evolving direction of the business, which now serves all animals, not just horses. Through innovative techniques like the Trust Technique®, Debs continues to help foster deeper connections between animals and their caregivers, promoting emotional, mental, and physical healing across species.
